

A BPMN Case Study: Paper Review and Submission System

Markus Kirchberg¹, Ove Sørensen² and Bernhard Thalheim²

¹ Institute for Infocomm Research, A*STAR, Singapore

Email: Markus.Kirchberg@ieee.org

² Department of Computer Science, University of Kiel, D-24098 Kiel, Germany

Email: ove@is.informatik.uni-kiel.de

Email: thalheim@is.informatik.uni-kiel.de

Abstract: We explore the expressiveness of the BPMN workflow modelling language by applying it to MuCoMS, a paper submission system. This well known application domain is a suitable example for demonstrating how the flow objects that the standard provides map to real-world processes and how important a proper semantic foundation is for reasoning about workflow models.